

“Little Hercules”

2003 - 2006

Captures the spirit and innocence of a child, building his strength through body and mind, in an attempt to emulate an adult role model.

Base on pallet and birch rollers

Autumn 2003

Autumn 2003

Descent of base assembly down 8ft wall

Autumn 2003

Controlled descent down wall

Autumn 2003

Autumn 2003

Complete descent without damage

Autumn 2003

Rolling base to installation site with holes to receive armature

Autumn 2003

Autumn 2003

Foot of armature assembly inserted under surface

Autumn 2003

Foot of armature assembly pounded into place

Autumn 2003

8 5'04"

Autumn 2003

Base overturned on inclined plain

Autumn 2003

Armature telescoped into foot assembly

2004

8 6 04

27 6'04

2004

First layer of "Little Hercules" legs

2004

Head and barbells provide dimensional guidance during construction of legs and body

2005

During construction of arms with one of the grandsons posing.

2006

2006

Refining shape of arms

2006

Rear view:
Arms build up in process

2006

CBC TV visit showing cap - affectation of the times Autumn 2006

Completed rear view

Completed front view

“Little Hercules”
measures 8ft in height including base and installation